TERRITORIAL NOTES.

The Navajo tribe of Indians numbered about 22000 souls.

A post office has been established at Lost Basin, in Mohave county.

Good crops are reported on the Verde, notwithstanding the dry season.

The inadequacy of the water supply is agitating the residents of the capitol.

C. S. Clark has been appointed postmaster at Tombstone, vice J. P. Clum, resigned.

Judge Sumner Howard has adjourned court in Yavapai county until November 2d.

The Territorial Insane Asylum is to be erected about two miles outside the town limits at Phoenix.

Patton and Creighton's bid of $6,497 was the lowest received for the erection of the Territorial Normal School.

Tucson is the only city in Arizona that is entitled to the privilege of the immediate postal delivery system.

Sheriff Steen is making a general clean up, in Mohave county, of parties who for some time past have been selling whiskey to the Wallapai Indians.

D. L. Sayre has withdrawn from the management of the Clifton Clarion. The paper will hereafter be published by J. T. Fitzgerald, who has been a part owner since its establishment.

Judge Mabbitt, of Yuma, considers the selling of whiskey to Indians as a petty crime. A Mexican tried and convicted of that offence, last week, was fined by the Judge $15 and costs.

The new wagon road between Flagstaff and Verde is about completed. Parties who have passed over it, say that it shows a judicious expenditure of money on the part of the Commissioners.

Annie Penrod, a Mormon girl living at Sunset, ran away from her home the other day and married Michael Mason, a gentile, in the employ of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, at Winslow.

Wm. H. Hardy, of Mineral Park, offers for sale for $600 cash, or $700 in county warrants, a certain piece of property, which the Board of Supervisors of Mohave county, assessed as being worth $2,100. Mr. Hardy gives as a reason for selling that he does not wish to hold property in a county where the taxes are ten per cent.

James McAvoy, alias Scar-Faced Charley, was arrested at Kingman a few days ago, on the charge of selling whiskey to the Wallapai Indians. He had a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Hyde, and held to answer in the sum of $300 bail. Being unable to furnish it, he was committed to the Yavapai county jail.

The Prescott Journal-Miner says that J. L. Fisher cleared up $5,000 on a horse race at Albuquerque on Saturday. The winning horse was a mare owned and run by Al Whitney. New Mexico sporting men backed a Santa Fe horse, and thought they had a sure thing against Arizona's favorite, but when they took Whitney and Fisher for tenderfeet they played themselves out of a good lot of coin.

A special dispatch from Clifton to the Tucson Times says Hiram Weech, for a long time Supervisor of this county, who is a well-known Mormon, left Smithville last week with a fourteen year old girl, for southern Utah, where she will be sealed to him. Weech's present wife is said to be prostrated with grief over his action, although the church authorities have informed her that her husband's only chance of promotion depends upon his taking more wives.

LIVE STOCK NEWS.

Items of Interest to Stockmen, Gathered from Reliable Sources.

San Antonio Stockman: An English syndicate has recently purchased 1,400,000 acres of land in Coahuila. The Englishmen are investing largely in land in northern Mexico. "Git a plenty, while you are gittin," seems to be their motto.

Tombstone Record-Epithaph: The impression obtained by some that cattle can be brought into the Territory between October 1st and April 1st without being subject to inspection is erroneous. Cattle must be inspected at any season of the year brought into the Territory.

Colorado Record: Colorado will enter the winter with 300,000 more cattle than it ever had before. What with the calf crop there has been an influx from Texas, Kansas and other western states of 200,000 head at least. The greatest increase has been on the western slope.

New Mexico Stock Grower: R. R. Richardson and Walter L. Vail, prominent cattlemen of southeastern Arizona, have gone to Kansas City to arrange for favorable shipping rates for Arizona cattle to eastern markets. They will be absent in the east about a month.

Globe Stock Journal: It is said fifty-five thousand head of Texas cattle will have arrived in Socorro county, New Mexico, this year, before another month. If all their counties are being filled up that way, no wonder the local men cry over-stocked ranges.

New Mexico Stock Grower: Gov. Ross is playing "hide and seek" with the cattlemen of New Mexico in sending Inspector Dunne hither and thither with clean bills of health, to pass upon cattle that other inspectors, in the faithful discharge of their duties, will not allow to cross the quarantine line.

New Mexico Stock Grower: Col. H. M. Taylor, who has given the subject much attention, estimates that a two-year-old steer brought up from Texas and held two years in Colorado, will grow 100 pounds heavier than he would have grown if left on his native heath, and if he had been moved still further north to Montana, he would have put on another 100 pounds.

Tucson Times: The climate of Arizona is specially adapted to the successful raising of cattle, horses and other animals, and is remarkably free from all those diseases which cause such fatality among the herds of other sections. As time goes on Arizona is bound to become the greatest breeding country for stock of all kinds in the United States.

New Mexico Stock Grower: Complaint is justly made by Arizona cattlemen against the practice of a New Mexico cattle inspector, who collects fees for inspecting bees on the way to market from that Territory. This should at once be discontinued. The simple fact that the cattle to be inspected are bees on the way to market should be evidence that they are all right, and no inspection of them should be considered necessary.

Correspondence to Las Vegas Stock Grower: A Mexican ranchman, who lives over the mountain south of Coolidge, has some locations and cattle for sale, also 20 peons and a number of horses, the whole outfit being offered for $45,000. Last spring two of the peons misbehaved, and he killed them and burnt the bodies in his corral. This summer he went after two more, one of whom he shot through the shoulder, the other arrested the ranchman, and started to the county seat with him. Such little business transactions lend variety and spice to existence in western Valencia county.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Circuses are taxed one thousand dollars a day in Los Angeles, Cal.

Sydney V. Smith, one of the best known lawyers of San Francisco, is dead.

Eugene E. White, of Arkansas, has been appointed Indian agent at the Prescott, Arkansas, Indian agency.

Thomas E. Smith, of Virginia, has been appointed United States Attorney for the Territory of New Mexico.

Fifteen civil cases and 168 criminal cases were disposed of at the last term of the Colfax County (N. Mex.) court.

The President has appointed W. F. Henderson, of Arkansas, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico.

The October term of the Supreme Court of the United States began Wednesday. Its docket contains 1,040 cases and others are coming in daily.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has just absorbed another road, a short line in Texas of sixty-eight miles, called the Gulf, Western Texas and Pacific Railway.

The stables of C. L. Johnson were burned in Atlanta, Georgia, last week. One hundred and twenty eight head of fine bred cattle valued at $150,000 perished in the flames.

The highest rate of taxation in New Mexico is in Grant county, the assessment being $2.12½ on the hundred, while the lowest is in Mora county, the rate being $1.13.

A band of twenty smugglers were attacked by Mexican river guards, near Presidio, Mexico, last week and eight of them killed. The balance of the gang made their escape back to the American side.

Chas. L. N. Reade, the absconding agent of the Southern Express Company at Morristown, Tennessee, was arrested in the City of Mexico a few days ago by a detective. Reade is charged with embezzling about $12,000.

Mrs. Veronica Bell, of Syracuse, New York, who commenced to fast August 10th, died last week. For a period of fifty-nine days she did not touch a morsel of solid food, living entirely upon water and small quantities of morphine.

P. T. Barnum has brought suit for $50,000 damages against the Hartford (Conn.) Globe for publishing a statement to the general effect that the elephant Jumbo was sick and that Barnum had contrived at having him killed by a railroad for advertising purposes.

A citizens meeting at Seattle, in Washington Territory, adopted strong resolutions in favor of the vigorous enforcement of the Restriction Act, deploring the presence of the Mongolians, and urging the use of all lawful means for their removal.

Jesse W. Jones, the youthful desperado who robbed the mail stage a few days ago, between San Angelo and Abilene, and also between Cisco and Brownwood, and who was arrested by Conductor Finley of the Texas and Pacific Railroad near Ysleta, Texas, was carried back to Dallas. His trial will take place in Dallas, as the crime was committed in that Federal District.

A package of mutilated currency said to contain $100,000 in green backs was received at the Treasury last week. The notes, which are almost unrecognizable, are said to have been buried for a considerable length of time by a farmer living in Ohio, and who did not believe in trusting banks or other repositories. It is believed nearly all the mouldy and worn out notes are redeemable.
